OLD WIVES’ TALES and SUPERSTITIONS
(some are familiar while some are just downright weird and strange!)

- If your ear is burning, then someone is talking about you. To determine whether what they are saying is good or bad, remember this rhyme: Left for love, right for spite.
- When eating a fish, you should begin at the tail and end at the head.
- Lightning will never strike a person when he is asleep, nor will it visit a house in which a fire is burning. Also, placing an acorn at the window will keep lightning out.
- If you catch a falling leaf on the first day of autumn you will not catch a cold all winter.
- If you are ever in an accident, you should be wearing clean underwear.
- A red-tipped match will cure a case of the hiccups.
- Washing a car brings rain.
- A sailor wearing an earring cannot drown.
- Cold hands, warm heart. Warm hands, cold heart.
- To find a penny heads up brings good luck.
- When boiling milk, it’s bad luck to let it run over the side of the pot.
- Thirteen is just an unlucky number in general.
- When a boy is born under the waning moon, the next birth will be a girl, and vice versa. When a child is born under a waxing moon, the next birth will be the same sex.
- Use the same pencil for taking a test as was used for studying for the same test. The pencil always remembers the answers.
- An apple a day keeps the doctor away.
- Spit on your hands for strength. This originated from seeing animals lick their wounds, making people think saliva had some magical healing power.
- Think of five or six names of boys or girls you might marry. As you twist the stem of an apple, recite the names until the stem comes off. You will marry the person whose name you were saying when the stem came off.
- When making the bed, don’t interrupt your work, or you will spend a restless night in it.
- A watermelon will grow in your stomach if you swallow a watermelon seed.
- A cricket in the house brings good luck.
- Pulling out a gray or white hair will cause ten more to grow in its place.
- If you secretly put your toenail clippings in a glass of lemonade and make someone drink it, then that person is supposed to fall in love with you.
